WASHINGTON NEWS AND GOSSIP.

years past the Abolitionists and Free Soilers have been making the welkin ring with their shouts for the equal rights of down-tredden humanity. They have been preaching the immorality of the South for refusing to en-franchise her negro slaves, who, according to the arguments of their ministers, lecturers, writers and stump slang-whangers, are endowed with all the attributes of intellectual and moral manhood possessed by any class of the whites on this side of the Atlantic. If ever men were committed irrevocably to any political axiom, the Abolitionists have been so committed to that of the justice and entire propriety of at once "restoring" the colored race of the North American continent to the rights of perfect equality, social and political, with the whites, which they insist are wrongfully withheld from them. This doctrine has formed the very basis of all that the Aboli tionists have been contending for, and to achieve which they have even recommended the slaves not only to elope, but to poison, murder and burn. Suddenly, however, we find them striving to become the very head and front of the new political anti-Catholic and anti-foreigner organization. In Maine every candidate of the Know Nothings elected-Governor, member of Congress or of the Legislature, is also a Free Soiler-every one of them. So, also, in Ohio, Indiana and Penn sylvania, nearly every one chosen in the recent elections, by the aid of the Know Nothing votes, are vehement Free Soilers,-men who a few short weeks ago, were proclaiming that the negroes of the South should be enfranchised. They have suddenly discovered that their late cherished theory is all wrong. That all men in this country should not be endowed with all the privileges of citizenship. Cer tainly that the native-born of the Catholic faith, and all the foreign-born among us should be exceptions to the rule otherwise to be so general to embrace under its blessings the three millions of ignorant slaves of the South ern States. "It is a poor rule which won't Tribes .- It will be recollected, that in the Kansas Indians, clauses were introduced, intended to initiate the proposed new system of dealing with the aborigines, which looks to their perpetuation and improvement as the grand aim of the Government's future dealings with them, rather than to getting them out of pressing upon them, at any cost to their future, which has really formed the sum and substance of the policy of the United States towards the tribes, one and all, up very nearly to this time.

though the aim of those having the chief authority here has, of course, been very differerent. The clauses to which we refer not only provide for the sale of portions of their lands for their immediate benefit, as has been provided in many previous Indian treaties, but authorizes the Government to administer the funds thus created as in its judgment may seem best for the future of its wards. In this atter feature lies the difference. Experience proves, that when money so obtained for the Indians is payable directly to them or their assignees in hard cash, it almost invariably operates as a powerful lever for increasing their demoralization and hastening their ex-paying Indian annuities in cash, such as those in sea-ports have often witnessed after the paying off the crew of a man of-war, when three-fourths of the men enter into a contest, as it were, to test which of them can soonest and most viciously spend the hard earnings of his long voyage. We make this comparison all our Atlantic-slope fellow-citizens the gro evils of the old system. Government, in in sisting in the new treaties on being left free to judge how the money coming to the Indians shall be expended for their benefit, have laid the foundation for the regeneration of the remaining tribes, if this wise provision be as wisely administered, as made. There's the rub, however

If the Government, in any of its departments connected with Indian affairs, shall lack energy of integrity of purpose in the administra tion of these new treaties, the promise te the Indian will be kept only to the ear. Unfor tunately for the purpose of those here to deal fairly with their charge, of late years too many of their civil and military employes in the far West become bitten by the mania for speculation raging there so universally. Those who have succumbed to that mania should be di charged, or at least removed from their present stations, or the wise precautions of the new treaties will be powerless for good results.

No speculating public officer can be relied on to protect the Indians in their rights, when the latter come in conflict with schemes of profit by the invasion of those rights, in which he is interested. We are impelled to the duty of thus plainly calling the attention of those composing the Government here to the neces sity of keeping their eyes wide open at this time, by the rumors of the improper speculations of all sorts of people, including Govern

WASHINGTON CITY: FRIDAY AFTERNOON.....October 27

The large circulation of the STAR makes it the most desirable advertising medium in the District. It has more readers on the cities of Washington, Georgetown, and Alexandria, than all the other Wash. angton dailies combined.

Persons wanting the Evening Star in Baltimore, can procure it early every after noon at Henry Taylor's Newspaper Depot. "Sun Iron Buildings."

SPIRIT OF THE MORNING PRESS. The Intelligencer quotes Senator Shields to prove that the friends of the Nebraska bill a the West contend, not only that it is right in principle, but that its operation will militate against, rather than in favor of, the extension of slavery.

The Union joins issue with the Charleston Mercury upon the question of the propriety of the slave trade, and, while using up that journal's arguments, compliments the editor for the straightforward manliness with which he meets the questions involved in their controversy. The same paper rebukes the mendacity of some of the New York city presses. as manifested by their failure to acknowledge the injustice done Mr. Belmont by their false publications, charging him with following the banking business at the Hague. The organ also contains an article from the Philadelphia Episcopal Recorder, refuting the roorback against the Rev. Clement M. Butler, late of this city, retailed by the editor of the New York Pick-Scovill-in his pretended account of the last hours of Mr. Calhoun. In this connection we have to add merely, that for those who know this Mr. Scovill, no such contradiction of his slander was necessary.

The Sentinel cautions the South against falling into the Know Nothing ranks.

HENRY A. WISE.

This gentleman, who is now in Washington. has caused to be published in the Richmond Enquirer an elaborate letter from his pen on the subject of know Nothingism, in which he reviews the whole of our public (national) history as bearing upon religious equality under the government of the United States, and upon the naturalization question. This paper, which nearly fills a whole page of the Enquirer, is the ablest document we have ever read from under his hand; which is saying much for it, indeed. He is utterly and uncompromisingly opposed to secret combinations to connect religion with politics in this country, and argues with great power and ability to show that they are directly in opposition to all the principles of Americanism, the Constitution and the Laws, and that they are more dangerous to the liberties of our country than aught else ever attempted in connection with American politics. Whether the reader may agree or disagree with Mr. Wise, all will find in the paper in question a most interesting, absorbing document, full of learning, sarcasm. wit, and logic. It will, probably, be published and re-published in all quarters of the country. So it will shortly be within the reach of every one, and will, doubtless, be as extensively read as anything ever written in the United States.

The New Steamer Louisiana. The Baltimore and Norfolk Steam Packet

Company, of which Moore N. Falls is President, have just built and tried a new steamship for their Chesapeake Bay route. She has been named the "Louisiana," and will be commanded by Captain George W. Russell, long commander in the bay line, and one of the most popular and skilful officers that ever sailed out Baltimore. The new steamer measures over 1,100 tons, and is 275 feet long, 500 horse power, and 35 feet diameter of wheel. There are 70 state-rooms, with the President's room, bridal chambers, and other accommodations for 500 sleepers. Ten rooms with double bedsteads and baths, have been set apart specially for families. The painting is white and gold. While she may be commended as a floating palace, it is agreeable to remark what has been often said with truth, that neither life nor limb has ever been lost in twenty years on this safe, prompt, and pleasant route on which the new ship is soon to take her place. It is said that on her trial trip, day before yesterday, the new steamer made 18 miles per hour.

Naw Music.-John F. Ellis has laid upon our table several handsomely printed and trated pieces of new music, among which we find the following pretty sons: "Who'll have me," "Where roses fair," "Jeannie with the light brown hair," "Evening song," by J. E. Carpenter, "Old Memories," "Love." We also have from the same gentlemen "El Cucuye," the celebrated Italian contra dansa, "The Shanghai Polka," and "The Black Bind Quadrilles."

THE OYSTER EPIDEMIC.—There has been general complaint for some time as to the quality of oysters produced this year, and many believe from their condition that they are subject to disease. The same impression prevails also in New York, and within a few days a number of very sudden deaths have occurred, which are directly attributed to eating eysters. The disease thus superinduced very closely resembles cholers, and utterly defies medical skill.

NOVEMBER ELECTIONS .- On the 7th of November, New York, New Jersey, Illinois, Michigan, and Wisconsin, are to elect fiftyfour members of Congress. In New York and Michigan State officers are to be chosen; in Illinois a State Treasurer and county officers; and Legislatures in all the States except Illinois. We understand that three indictments under the penal clause of the Sub-Treasury law, are pending in Ohio. One against J. H. Forsyth late collector at Maumee; another against C. L. Russell, late collector at Cleveland: and the third against C. K. Smith, late Territorial Secretary of Minesota. We have every reason to believe that the indictment of the last named. Mr. Smith, arose out of a misapprehension of some portion of the instructions of the Treasury Department, which certainly imagines that Mr. S. will take an early opportunity to settle his accounts with the the United States, without compelling the enforcement of the nenal clause of the Sub-Treasury law in his case.

The United States Sloop-of-War John Adams.—The Navy Department has information of the sailing of this ship from Boston. The following is a correct list of her officers:

A New Naval Contract.-We hear on the avenue this morning, that the authorities el the Navy Department have awarded to Pease & Murphy, of the Fulton Iron Works, New York city, the contract for the machinery of the remaining steam frigate (the Niagara) to be built in New York, their plans and bids proving most themselves. Doubtful Coin .- Counterfeit quarter eagles which almost defy detection, are in circulation in New York. They are said to be made from a genuine New Orleans Mint die, stolen some the way of the schemes of the rapacious whites years since, and bears the "O" under the talons of the eagle. Professor Torry, Assayer, at New York, has analyzed the coin, and finds that it is made of a casing of pure gold, filled with silver, and probably platina, to increase the weight. The weight is 60 5-10 grains, which is only four grains light, and the casing of gold weighs 30-1-10 grains. It is therefore worth $1.17 in gold, and 8 cents in silver, or 1.25 in raw material, beside the labor of making. The maker and vender could net, therefore, realise more than $1 each, which would seem too small a profit, except that the counterfeit is so well done that there is but little risk of detection.

OHIO ELECTION.—The Cincinnati Gazette publishes official returns of the vote for Judge of the Supreme Court in forty-five counties of Ohio, which is a little more than half the tinction. In fact, scenes always follow, in State. It shows, so far, a majority for Swan, the Whig and Anti-Nebraska candidate, of 55,762 votes. Of these forty-five counties, all except one give majorities for Swan. The Gazette says that the entire majority in the State for the anti Nebraska ticket will be over seventy-five thousand, and the majority on the Congressional vote will be even larger. by way of illustrating to the comprehension of Judges of probate, sheriffs and other county officers were chosen by the people. The soil in Root River Valley is so prolific that J. S. Looney gathered seventy-three good sized pumpkins from one vine.

A BRIDGE OVER THE MISSISSIPPI -The subject of a bridge over this great river at St. Louis is discussed in the newspapers. It is suggested that the bridge ought to have an elevation of ninety feet. It would cost a million and a half of dollars, an amount deemed insignificant compared with its advantages.

Why the Plan of Operations were Changed Vice Admiral Hamelin thus explains, in dispatch to his government, the cause of the change of plan of operations by the allied

It was on the 23d of September that I w ate determination to which the Russians had come, of sinking, at the entrance of their port of Sevastopol, five ships-of the-line and two frigates, only retaining in the interior of that port nine ships, two of them three-deckers, which, according to the account given by Polish sailors who had deserted, they meant to deal with in the same way when once assured of the capture of Sevastopol.

This news, which the Marshal could not avoid characterizing as deplorable in more than one point of view, tended to modify his plans of attack. In fact, it was to a certain extent admitted that when once Fort Constantine was taken, and the batteries raised at the northern part of the fort were carried, the fleet then bearing upon the port and destroying barricades, would not only finish the work of the army by attacking the batteries of the south, but would be able to give some assistance to that army, whatever might be the weather and the season in the pert of Sevastopol itself. The blocking up of the port, therefore, entirely changed the aspect of things, and as, besides, external works had recently been raised round Fort Constantine to render the approaches as difficult as they were fatal the Generals-in-Chief decided upon turning Sevastopol by the east and throwing themselves upon the south of the town to attack it apon that side, which was scarcely defended, or entirely undefended, after they had placed themselves in communication with the fleets at Balaklava, and obtained provisions and

FOREIGN COAL-REPEAL THE DUTY OF COAL -A petition to Congress for the repeal of the duty on foreign coal has been placed in the Boston Merchants' Exchange, and has already received a large number of signatures. To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the United States: The undersigned people of the United States and residents of Boston, in the State of Massachusetts, respectively petition your honorable bodies to repeal all duties now existing by law upon the introduction of foreign coals. Recent action of the most prominent coal operators in the country has demonstrated the mpropriety of further protection of an interest abundantly able to take care of itself; and your petitioners represent that an immediate repeal of the existing burthensome National Coal Tax would be hailed with satisfaction by every class of the community not directly interested in speculative combination to raise the price of coal.
